

Ryan LaMothe, Ph.D.

Ryan LaMothe is a professor of pastoral care and counseling at Saint Meinrad School of Theology. He is a graduate of West Point (BS—1978), Notre Dame University (M.Div—1987), and Vanderbilt University (MA, Ph.D.—1994). He has over 90 publications including three books (Revitalizing Faith through Pastoral Counseling—Abingdon Press [2001]; Becoming Alive: Psychoanalysis and Vitality—Routledge Press [2005]; Heresies of the Heart: Developing Emotional Wisdom—Paulist Press [2009]). A member of the Pastoral Psychology's Editorial Board, he has also reviewed articles for Psychoanalytic Psychology, Contemporary Psychoanalysis, and the Annals of Psychotherapy.